The July programme was presented by David Wallace. We began with William Boyce's Symphony No 1 with the Württemberg Chamber Orchestra. Boyce was a Londoner known for his church music who, after the demise of Handel, took over his role. J. S. Bach's Organ Prelude "Liebster Jesu" {blessed Jesus} played by Albert Schweitzer was followed by a harpsichord sonata by Antonio Soler played by Virginia Black which showed two splendid performers at their best. Henry Cowell's "Hymne and Fugue" was played by the Academy of St. Martin-in-the-Fields and was a surprise since this American tended to specialise in Folk Music. Paul Croxton's "A Rumour", played by the same orchestra, followed. Next was Henry Hargreaves' Bassoon Concerto by the English Chamber Orchestra with Daniel Smith playing the bassoon. Emmanuelle Barbella's "Duet for Two Mandolins" with Alison Stephens and Sue Glossop impressing as the best performers in the UK with this seldom heard instrument. Maurice Ravel's Tone Poem "La Valse" {the waltz} played by the BBC Concert Orchestra – this composer being better known for his Bolero and "Daphnis et Chloé". Charles Gounod's "Funeral March of a Marionette" played by the Symphonique de Paris and it is interesting that this music was used by Alfred Hitchcock. Hector Berlioz's "Ballet of the Sylphs" (from The Damnation of Faust) played by the New Symphony Orchestra of London changed the mood and we finished with Johannes Brahms' Symphony No 3 played by the Ulster Orchestra. The programme was well received as it was extremely varied and not all composers were familiar to the entire group – a circumstance intentionally sought by our members.

Our July visit was to the London Transport Museum in Covent Garden. This museum had been closed for some time during its renovation and modernisation. The result is excellent and it displays all forms of transport from the early 1800's. There is so much information laid out over three floors with plenty of hands-on activities to amuse the young and not so young! We all agreed that one visit was insufficient to do the museum justice. An added bonus was that entry was free for us as we are all Freedom Pass holders. It was a well worthwhile visit.

Ramblers 2 : Leaders Pat & Alf Cracknell

In July, eleven of us set off from Camer Park for a 4½ mile trek round the fields of Meopham where there are some lovely views over the Weald of Kent. Meopham is a quiet village with the longest high street in Kent. It also boasts a windmill which has recently been restored to full working order. As it was a hot sunny day we gratefully retired to the George Inn for lunch and a welcome drink. While eating our lunch in the garden we were entertained by a group of gentlemen playing boules. This game is popular in France and metal balls are thrown (rather than rolled as in our game of bowls) to settle as near as possible to a target ball. A very enjoyable day was had by all.

Pat & Alf Cracknell

‡ Two of the most played boule games are pétanque and boule lyonnaise in which the goal is, while standing with the feet together in a small circle, to throw heavy metal balls as close as possible to a small wooden ball called a cochonnet {jack}. It is usually played on dirt or gravel.

Saturday Rambling Group : Leader Gay Braybrook

For our July ramble we went to Sandwich in Kent and walked along the coast to Deal – six miles. Travelling by train on the half price scheme cost us around £10 each without any traffic jams or road works! The day was sunny but extremely windy and it was good to get to our lunch destination. Two of our group decided to get to Deal from Sandwich by bus and this was achieved with their Freedom Passes; the bus went via local villages which meant they had a nice tour. After exploring Deal we returned on the train with its welcome refreshment trolley.

Gay Braybrook

‡ The Cinque Port of Sandwich, first recorded in AD 664, is one of the best preserved medieval towns in England and two of the town gates still exist. Before the River Stour silted up the river was wide and deep enough for great sailing ships, and, until medieval times, the town was an important Kent and UK port.

Horoscopes are rubbish,
Vague and unconvincing.
But I must say, that mine today
Really set me thinking.

The Sound of Music

To commemorate her 69th birthday, actress/vocalist Julie Andrews made a special appearance at Manhattan's Radio City Music Hall. One of the musical numbers she performed was "My Favourite Things" from "The Sound of Music". Here are the lyrics she used:

(Sing it at the same time)

Botox and nose drops and needles for knitting,
Walkers and handrails and new dental fittings,
Bundles of magazines tied up in string,
These are a few of my favourite things.

Cadillacs and cataracts, hearing aids and glasses,
Polident and Fixodent and false teeth in glasses,
Pacemakers, golf carts and porches with swings,
These are a few of my favourite things.

When the pipes leak, When the bones creak,
When the knees go bad,
I simply remember my favourite things,
And then I don't feel so bad.

Hot tea and crumpets and corn pads for bunions,
No spicy hot food or food cooked with onions,
Bathrobes and heating pads and hot meals they bring,
These are a few of my favourite things.

Back pain, confused brains and no need for sinnin',
Thin bones and fractures and hair that is thinnin',
And we won't mention our short shrunken frames,
When we remember our favourite things.

When the joints ache, When the hips break,
When the eyes grow dim,
Then I remember the great life I've had,
And then I don't feel so bad.

Ms. Andrews received a standing ovation from the crowd that lasted over four minutes and repeated encores.
