Photography Competition 2009

Following the success of last year's photography competition, we are pleased to announce a new one for 2009, and hope that many members will again submit entries. The competition is to be held at our general meeting on Thursday 17th September; the subject is "ANIMALS" and photographs can be simple portraits or as quirky as you like. Photographs should be taken by members of Sidcup & District U3A within the last 18 months only. They can be highly technical, or just 'look & click', and should be no larger than 7 x 5 inches. The set up can be either 'landscape' or 'portrait', and members can submit ONE or TWO entries. U3A members will again be asked to vote at the September meeting on which photograph they like the best.

DVD – Passion for Churches

Today's programme was loaned to us by the Third Age Trust. They have numerous DVDs, videos, slides, CDs & cassettes on many subjects which can be loaned to U3A members; the only charge being the item's return postage (50p – £2). A small group of us have watched two videos which we borrowed and found 'Clocks' and 'Seven Wonders of the Waterways' to be of great interest. If you feel you would like to set up your own group, then either our Group Co-ordinator or I are willing to help you. There are, for instance, about 30 CDs, cassettes and videos relating to poetry and about 20 DVDs about architecture – which have a connection with today's programme. There are many, too, on the subject of religion, both Christian and other faiths.

I am very sad to report the passing of Audrey Hayes who died a few weeks after Christmas following a short illness. Audrey was a very keen gardener and when she joined our U3A wanted to join the then current Gardening Group. Unfortunately, like a lot of our groups, it was over subscribed, but nothing daunted Audrey and she set up her own gardening group – and very successful it turned out to be. She was an inspiration to us all and will be sadly missed.

Parish Wood & Woodlands Farm Trust

Parish Wood. The Council has received a grant of £400,000 to set up a public park in Parish Wood. Nine other London parks have also received a similar amount. There were forty seven applicants and the winners were judged by the number of votes sent in by the general public. The new wood will be planted with trees and shrubs and there will be better access to it from Berwick Crescent. There will be an improved play area and a wild life centre based upon a wetland area with a viewing mount.

Woodlands Farm Trust. The Trust is having a lambing day on Saturday 11th April at its site on Shooters Hill in Welling. Go and see the new born lambs. There will be produce stalls, a cafe and other attractions. The entry fee is £1 for adults and 50p for children.

Ramblers 2 : Leaders Pat & Alf Cracknell

Our February ramble took us on the Thames Path from Rotherhithe to Greenwich. We started near the King's Stairs Gardens, went past the Mayflower pub and onto Brunel's Engine pump house, which was built to pump the air out of the Rotherhithe tunnel. Leaving Rotherhithe Street (the longest street in London) we passed a bronze statue of a Bermondsey boy who is reading the story of the Mayflower. Going on around the Spice Island pub, we got our first sightings of Canary Wharf on the other side of the river. We then passed through Surrey Dock Farm, where the animals look well tended, then came to the parade of bronze animals on Barnard's Wharf; we then went onto Greenland Dock. Nearly at journey's end, we passed the statue of Peter the Great, which commemorates his visit to Deptford to learn about ship building. We then crossed over the bridge in Creek Road and into Greenwich. It was a very enjoyable ramble, which most of us finished in the King's Arms for some much needed refreshment.

Local History 3 : Leader Pam Kirk

Our February visit was to see the "Magnificence of the Tsars" – an exhibition of ceremonial men's dress of the Russian Imperial Court, 1721–1917, at the Victoria & Albert Museum. This exhibition is a collection of rare and lavishly decorated costumes and uniforms worn by the Tsars on display outside Russia for the first time. It follows Russian history from the late 1720s with the gold-embroidered, cloth-of-silver coronation suit worn by boy Emperor Peter II, through to the coronation uniform worn by the last Russian Emperor, Tsar Nicholas II. Also on display were spectacular examples of 18th century men's dress and uniforms of court officials and coachmen, which reveal the high quality textiles and changing fashions adopted by the upper levels of society. These costumes reflect the development of style at the Russian Court, from the highly decorative coats in the French style through to the revival of traditional Russian dress. We were able to explore the bygone era of Imperial Russia through garments which have survived wars and revolutions.

Classical Music : Leader Derick Johnson

For our February meeting, John Mercer – in his usual manner – presented us with a fine mix of music which started with George Gershwin’s “Rhapsody in Blue” played by the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra conducted by André Previn. This was followed by Aram Khachaturian’s Ballet Suite “Masquerade” by the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra conducted by Yuri Simonov. We all love Max Bruch’s Violin Concerto № 1 in G minor by the English Chamber Orchestra conducted by Jeffrey Tate with the brilliant Nigel Kennedy on the violin. We all then gathered for a pleasant chat with tea and cakes. The second half began with Richard Tauber singing Johann Strauss’s “The Gypsy Baron” and “Die Fledermaus” {the bat} with Lotte Lehman and others accompanied by the Berlin Philharmonic 1924 & 28 respectively conducted by Frieder Weismann. Hayley Westenra then sang “Scarborough Fair”, and this was followed by Robert Schumann’s Piano Quintet by the Cherubini Quartet with conductor and pianist Christian Zacharias. It is interesting to know that the lady from Sidcup who became Dame Ethel Smyth was, in her younger days, trained by the Schumanns for the opera, knew Johannes Brahms, and was helped by Thomas Beecham. For a change of mood, we then had Manuel de Falla’s “La Vida, Primera Danza” {the life, first dance} with Catherine Wood on the cello and Ian Farrington on the piano recorded at the Royal Overseas League Music Competition of 2003. The afternoon finished with Tomaso Albinoni’s Concerto № 12 for two oboes by the Italian orchestra, I Solisti Veneti, which is a somewhat unusual, but very enjoyable, combination.

Ramblers 1 : Leader Annette Jansen

This month we decided to leave the muddy fields of Kent and head for the Thames towpath. Kate Ford was our leader of the day and ten of us assembled at Waterloo for the journey to Kingston. From there we headed eastwards along the Thames enjoying looking at the houseboats, locks, weir, the wildlife and, less enjoyably, the aircraft coming into Heathrow Airport. Upon reaching Richmond, we split into small groups for a variety of lunch venues. It was very enjoyable.
